WICHITA MARKETS,

Receipts of Live Stock at the Union Stock Yards during the past 24 hours-21 cattle, 2,411 hogs. Shipments 316 car of hogs. cattle, 150 calves, and 1,371 hogs. The supply of cattle was exceedingly small, and not enough to supply the demand. The buyers are all on the market again and much more activity is manifest. There is an active demand with two cars of hogs. for good fat butchers steers, cows and helfers. Very little demand for stockers and feeders or yearlings. Thin helfer stock very hard to sell and prices very low. Poor and half fat stuff not wanted at any price. There was a good supply of hogs again today. More sorting is being done, pigs and lights, also heavies, being taken out. Lights selling at $3 to $3.25, bulk of heavies at $3.35 to $3.40. The early market wanted at any price. There was a good at $3.35 to $3.40. The early market was weak at $3.35 for packers grades, 10 as reports from eastern markets noted a decline. Later reports, however, recorded an advance and prices here reacted and 21-2 to 5 cents higher was paid for the balance of the hogs. The market closed strong at $3.40.

WICHITA LIVE STOCK MARKET.

WICHITA, Ean., July 22. CATTLE

The receipts were very light, not being enough to caround. There were a few good butchers' grades al some thin heiters. The langers were all on man an teelay, and had there been a good supply of the nit kind of cattle the market would have been tive. There is a good emant for good tidy butchers are the second to the second Native shipping steers, good to extra. 45 75 04 00 0

THE ART OF MAKING UP.

A NOTED WIGMAKER TELLS HOW DISGUISES ARE EFFECTED.

Making a Man's Chin Look Unshaved. Eradication of Personal Peculiarities a Very Important Item in Disguising a Person-Cost of the Work.

Mr. Charles H. Fox, the celebrated wigmaker of Covent Garden, has recently explained that he is constantly in the habit of disguising persons for purposes quite unknown to him. Being of opinion that a few more details about his "unholy art" would not be without interest, we dispatched a representative to see Mr. Fox, who went to business at once:

"You would beastonished," he began, "to know the number of people who come here to be disguised. It has grown into a part of our regular business. Men of all classes come—gentlemen, detectives, amateur de-tectives, and I do not doubt that I have disguised on many occasions some of the greatest criminals of the day." Of course it is none of my business to inquire into the purposes for which these disguises are assumed, though sometimes I am told. The people who come generally have some tale to tell on the first occasion, but I take these tales with a grain or two of salt. A large number of grivate detectives and even Scotland yard men come to me, and as I know their business I ask no ques-tions. That they should disguise themselves is perfectly legitimate. However, as I was saving, sometimes I am told after ward what the disguise was wanted for.

MANNER OF DISGUISING. "Why, I have a customer at the present time who comes in sometimes two or three times a week. He is made up as a middle aged man and goes out of the shop so com-pletely disguised that gone of his friends know him. I don't know what his object is. He seldom stays away more than two Reference-Wichita National Bank. dis-tr

RAILROAD TIMETABLES. chez la femme, but, of course, it is no business of mine.

"Do you ever have ladies to disguise?"
"No. In fact, I think I may say never. You see the art of making up comes nat-ural to almost all women. I think it is born in them. They all understand how to beautify themselves. And if they want to disguise themselves they prefer to trust to their own ingenuity. A change of dress, a veil, an alteration in the mode of doing the hair, a pair of spectacles and there you are; detection is almost impossible. "Now, Mr. Fox, how do you set about disguising a person? "Oh, it is very easy. We change the ex-pression of the face by deepening shadows, alter the shape of the eyebrows by touching with a trifle of color, put a little hair on with spirit gum, change the fashion of the hair on the head, and sometimes throw into prominence the bones and muscles of the neck. Making up for the street is totally different to making up for the stage For daylight use we must employ as little paint as possible. A piece of burnt paper produces a lovely and most delicate color which we use for deepening shadows, and it is imperceptible to the naked eye of the

"I can produce the appearance of a chin which has not been shaved for three four days in a very simple manner. The then covered with a thin layer of spirit gum; then a quantity of finely cropped hair is then dabbed on to the chin and cheeks when the gum is nearly dry. Of course the things to be avoided are to leave the gum shiny and to have the hair dabbed on in patches. Practice makes perfect, and an adept hand never makes these blanders. MINOR POINTS OF THE ART.

"Crepe hair may be used for whiskers or beard in an absolutely undetectible manner if carefully put on and trimmed after-ward. But I prefer, instead of using wigs or false hair, to alter the dressing of man's own hirsute appendages. Thus, in your own case, by turning up your mus tache, by showing your upper lip, just al-tering the set of your eyebrows a little and must not forget. It is not alone the head and face which must be altered. The at-TRAINS ARRIVE . LEAVE and face which must be altered. The attree the dress, must undergo just as complete a change. A turned down collar, a leave grate and California excess the polymer of the pocket handkerchief needs to be different from that you usually carry. Why, do you know that the very manne has been sufficient before now to detect a person through a clever disguise?"

They all professed to be annateur detectives, but I fance some another any thing but that, and I fance some were anything but that, and I fance some were passed through my hands more than once. It is quite a common thing for a face so by the flower and before many here passed through were than once a far anything but that any the passed through t sources have had hundreds of customers. At last it got such a big thing, and I took such an

To Col. Donn Piatt belongs the credit of having started the crusade against "The Car Hog." Five years ago he contributed an article to the American Press Association under this table. It had a wide circuission, and it hall a good effect th toming down the eccentricities of portine travelers. But, as in the case of liberty, it requires sternal vigilance to reform the car hog. There is a new crop every year.
